

Partner with APAC

The Association of Physician Assistants in Cardiology (APAC) represents the unique needs and interests of the cardiology PA. Building a corporate relationship with us helps the PA profession and our organization prosper, while affording your company an exceptional venue for increased exposure and recognition. Support of APAC also helps advance the work of cardiology PAs, who help to improve the quality and accessibility of care for the cardiovascular patient.

Physician Assistants provide a wide range of services in cardiovascular medicine and exercise autonomy in medical decision-making. Data from the American Academy of Physician Assistants (AAPA) shows that PAs write more than 350 million prescriptions and manage 275 patient visits annually. PAs are also working in administrative positions, serving on medical supply and equipment committees, and participating in selection of home care services and equipment.
